VOL. 14, NUMBER 79 MONESSEN, PA, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14 1915 SIX CENTS THE WEEK

Claim Discrimination In Railroad Rates

Two hearings will be conducted in Pittsburgh next month before Commissioner Harlan of the interstate commerce commission. They are of the greatest importance to the pig iron industry and the ore-carrying railroads, the two cases involving some $20,000,000 or more a year. One case involves the freight rate on iron ore from the lakes to Pittsburgh, and the other the division of rates on ore between the ore-carrying roads and the Pittsburgh Steel company's industrial railroad, the Monessen Southwestern.

The freight rate on iron ore from the lakes to Pittsburhg has been 96 cents per ton, while the rate to Wheeling was 60 cents. The rate to various Ohio points such as Cleveland and Ironton was 50 cents. Some time ago the Pittsburgh Steel company filed a complaint with the interstate commerce commission, alleging discrimination in favor of Wheeling. The hauls are practically of the same length, while there was a difference of 36 cents a ton in favor of Wheeling. After a thorough hearing and investigation, the interstate commerce commission decided there was discrimination and ordered it to cease. Thereupon the railroads fixed a rate of 88 cents a ton from the lakes to Pittsburgh, and the same to Wheeling, ending the discrimination between Pittsburgh and Wheeling.

This was not satisfactory to the Pittsburgh Steel interests and the Pittsburgh Steel company filed another complaint alleging discrimination as between Pittsburgh and Ohio points, where the rate remains unchanged at 50 cents. The Wheeling Steel and Iron company also filed a complaint, claiming the railroads were not warranted in increasing the rate to Wheeling, as the discrimination could be stopped by simply cutting the Pittsburgh rate down to the Wheeling rate to meet the Pittsburgh rate. Wheeling interests claim to be worse off than their Pittsburgh competitors, because it costs them so much more to asemble in Wheeling the other materials required for the manufacture of pig iron than it costs to assemble them in Pittsburgh.

The complaint of the Pittsburgh Steel company against the 88-cent rate of ores and that of the Wheeling Steel and Iron company against the increase of their rate to 88 cents will be heard together by Commissioner Harlan in Pittsburgh October 18. It is estimated that the difference between the 88-cent rate now fixed and the 60-cent rate which the steel interests are trying to get would amount, on present shipments to more than $12,000,000 a year. Whether the railroads will be permitted to save it is the question involved in the hearing.

The other hearing, to be held in Pittsburgh, October 22 by Commissioner Harlan, is on the complaint of the Monessen Southwestern railroad against the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, and involves the matter of a division of the through rate on ore and the Monessen road, which is the Pittsburgh Steel Company's industrial line.

On April 1, 1914, all division of freight rates with industrial lines of railroads was cut off by the interstate commerce commission. Shortly after that date, however, the supreme court of the United States handed down an opinon to the affect that industrial lines are entitled to participate in a division of freight rates. But the interstate commerce commission has restored very few joint rates involving shipment over industrial roads and is still doing everything it can to discourage the practice. Now the Monessen Southwestern railroad has undertaken to compel the commission to authorize a division of rates with it, and the hearing will bring out testimony upon this point.

Should the Monessen road win out in its contention, other industrial roads would benefit by the decision and it is estimated that from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 a year or perhaps more, will be involved in the decision.

Wife Beater Swears Off For A Year

John Quigley of Morgan avenue, who was brought into Burgess Dunlap's court this morning on a charge of wife beating, was given the alternative of serving a sentence in the county jail or going before a Justice of the Peace and taking the pledge for a period of three years.

Quigley had been arraigned on the same charge on a former occasion and was fined. This morning his wife of a few months, appeared against him and told a tale of abuse. Quigley drinks his pay up and will not pay the rent or the grocery bills. Mrs. Quigley said she makes fancy work and sells it about town to pay the grocery bill. She wept bitterly as she looked across the rail at her drunken husband. Witnesses testified they saw him strike his wife and she testified that last night he attempted to throw her down the porch steps by main force.

Burgess Dunlap imposed a fine of $7.00 or five days to street labor under the conditions that Quigley swear off from drink for a period of three years. He promised to do this and was remanded back to jail until ready to fulfill his promise.

Another sensational case was that of Steve Ofshauney of 159 Fourth street. Steve boards with Mr. and Mrs. John Coshaski, being a brother-in-law, and last night he came home drunk with a bottle of whiskey on his person. He found the door locked and in trying to get in, he became boistrous and used some vile, very vile language. Mike Skirpan acted as interpreter and the language almost made Mike sick.

Ofshauney was fined $12.50 and was ordered to leave the premises. He agreed to pay off all his obligations and leave the house peaceable, and he said he had the money with which to do it.

Mike Hornyok hadn't the $3.00 with which to pay his fine and will have to labor on the street. Tony Govola paid $3.00 for being drunk and Andy Skibo and Charley Costo each forfeited $10.00 for non-appearance on a disorderly conduct charge.

Monessen Passengers On Liner Are Saved

The Faber liner Sant Anna which was threatened by destruction of fire at sea, had aboard as passengers, Gaetino Fanara, Agata Fanara, Salvatrice Fanara, Rosina Miceli. Carmela Siino, Salvatrice Siino, Mary Siino, Sebastiano Siino all of Monessen. Word was received here this morning at the private banking house of Daniel Reamer that all the passengers were saved. This relieves all anxiety of Monessen friends.

Hays Piano Firm Starts Baby Contest

The Baby Contest being conducted by the well known firm of E. G. Hays & Co., of Pittsburgh, who are holding a 15 day factory sale of Lester Pianos and Player Piano in the new Independent building, Sixth street, is an assured success, judging from the interest already shown. The following is a partial list of babies entered thus far:

Harry Pore, Jr., 415 McKee avenue.
Bettie Louise Seanor, Fifth Avenue hotel.
May Helen Lewis, 452 McKee avenue.
Donald C. Duvall, 444 McKee Ave.
J.O'Hara Denny Ashcom,The Oaks.
Carl Woodward, Jr., Reed avenue.
Wayne Hibbs, 35 Reed avenue
Malcom Johnston, 93 Donner Ave.

Osena Burice Southern, Donner Ave.
Richard Watkins, 1003½ Tenth St.
Mellie Elizabeth Umbel, 609 Reed Ave.
Richard Warman, 619 Reed Ave.

The only condition of this contest is that the baby must not be over four years of age. Remember this contest is free to anyone who cares to enter their baby.

Why not enter your baby today, then have your friends call at our store room and vote, which is free. Any further information desired may be obtained by calling 250 Monessen.

People Fight For Lower Water Rates

The second of the battle between the people and the Westmoreland Water company started today at 10 o'clock in Greensburg. The referee of the battle will be the Public Service Board.

The hearings will all be held in the court house and will last the greater part of the week.

Only five of the seven members of the Public service commission will be present at the hearings. Ex-Governor Samuel Pennypacker of Montgomery county, one of the members of the commission, broke his arm while turning in his bed Friday night and will not be able to attend the hearings. A vacancy exists on the board because of the refusal of Thos. B. Smith of Philadelphia to accept the appointment.

The other five members of the commission are: W. D. B. Ainey, Montrose, chairman; William A. Magee, Pittsburgh; John S. Riling, Erie; M. J. Brecht, Lancaster and John Monahan, of Philadelphia.

Expert accountants and engineers for the commission will attend the hearing. The Westmoreland Water company will also have their full staff of hired experts on the job.

Two months ago the fight of the people of six boroughs of Westmoreland county for lower water rates began in Pittsburgh. At Pittsburgh evidence in behalf of the water company was offered.

High financing methods of the water barons were brought out at the hearing. It was brought out that the Westmorland water company was buying water from the Mountain Water Supply company at eight cents a gallon and selling it at 60 cents.

Since the hearing in Pittsburgh a new foe has lined up against the water barons. Southwest Greensburg borough refused to sign a new contract and will fight for lower rates.

The other boroughs in the fight besides Greensburg, are Jeannette, Irwin, Manor and Youngwood. Greensburg is represented by Solicitor R. D. Laird. Gaither & Whitten and H. H. Fisher; Jeannette by Robbins and Wyant; Youngwood by Z. T. Silvus; Manor by Keister & Fink and Irwin by George W. Flowers.

Moorhead and Smith are attorneys for the company.

The Public Service members while in Greensburg will stop at the Rappe hotel.

Candidates Skirmishing County For Votes

It is evident from the amount of aggressiveness that is being put into the campaign that one week from today will see one of the greatest contests in Westmoreland county. The strenuous fight is for Republican nominations, as it is believed that the great home coming of voters will practicallly insure a Republican victory in the fall, hence a nomination will be equivalent to election.

But whether this is true or not, remains to be determined after the primary election is over. Forces are at work already in Republican ranks with the forewarning that if the "right" candidates are not chosen, there will be a break in the party ranks and certain interests will pick out Democrats and fight for their election. In that particular case the majority voice will not count as recorded in the primaries.

But the judicial contest is creating more interest than was first thought. There are the three candidates on the non-partisan ballot and next Tuesday's election will likely be a matter of elimination and the fight will go over to the general election. For every office there is a close contest and few prophesy the winners. People speculate and guess, but there are few willing to back up a statement as to the winners.

All three of Monessen's candidates have made a clean fight and are this week finishing up their campaign of the county. Locally there is a united interest in their success and if successful, this town will at last come into its share of the political prestige.

The hot weather of the past few days is going to keep up indefinitely, so the weather office at Pittsburgh said today. No relief is in sight. Generally fair and continued high temperature tonight and Tuesday with a maximum temperature of about 92 degrees, was the forecast for Pittsburgh and vicinity issued at noon today. Thermometers registered around the 90 degree mark this afternoon, which is about as high as has been reached at any time this summer.

The official temperature at Pittsburgh yesterday was 88. Twenty years ago yesterday it was 92, and September 12, 1881, the mercury rose

The New Compensation Law

The Workmen's Compensation law goes into effect in Pennsylvania January 1. It provides for a system of state insurance whereby employers may contribute to the insurance fund established by the Commonwealth to guarantee payment of benefits to injured employes under the law. This feature of the legislation is apparently to receive special attention from the Compensation Board and the Insurance Board.

These two administrative bodies at their first preliminary meeting on Tuesday of this week reached an understanding whereby the utmost possible amount of advertising will be given to the state's insurance. Employers are not bound to subscribe to the state insurance fund They are allowed by law to insure with any approved casualty company or to form mutual insurance companies among themselves. Steps have already been taken for mutual insurance.

Doubtless the first couple of years will be experimental in this matter. The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation law, however in its main features conforms to the similar enactments of other states. These have already been applied to most of the problems that arise in adjusting liability. Especially in regard to insurance, rates are based upon a percentage of the weekly or monthly payrolls, varying in amount according to the nature of the business, the hazards involved and the statistics of industrial accidents.

New York has an insurance fund similar to that of Pennsylvania During the year and a half since the law took effect, insurance rates have been twice reduced. This argues well for the administration of the system Doubtless the private casualty companies will be obliged to meet the rates established by the State Insurance fund.

Some idea of the far reaching importance of this new legislation can be obtained from the latest returns of industrial accidents in Pennsylvania. In August, 5588 accidents were reported; in July, 5083, and in May, 5008 Of the accidents in August, 84 were fatal, and 249 people were seriously injured. These figures show a great increase of industrial accidents within a few months, a condition that is attributable to the great activity of munitions factories. Every person injured in the course of his employment on and after January 1, excepting only farm servants and domestic servants, will be entitled to compensation.

Discrimination of Law

It looks very much like a person ought to become a syndicate before he starts to steal. By being a syndicate he can twirl his fingers at prison gates as he glides by in his 90 horse power. If however, the person happens to be a little friendless girl, the ending is far different

The above observations are the result of reading the following.

From Washington, D. C: "The interstate commerce commission finds the Moore-Reid syndicate guilty of plundering the Rock Island railroad and throwing it into a receivership for its own purposes. The people who invested their hard earned money in Rock Island stock and bonds have lost more than $20,000,000"

From Kansas City: "Ellen McGuire, a 19 year-old-girl was accused of forging a check. "Often I have been out of work and I wanted things so bad, and I just couldn't make my money do" That was what Ellen told the judge. This is what the judge said: "This is the third woman arrested for forgery and brought into my court It is necessary that something be done to deter women from committing forgeries I sentence you to two years' imprisonment."

Maybe the two years Ellen is to spend in prison will stop other Kansas City girls from forging checks for a few paltry dollars or stealing in any other form—even though they are out of work and "want things."

But the Moore-Reid syndicate is not the first thing which has wrecked a railroad or a big business organization—robbing thousands. Not the first by thousands of cases. To stop it, we propose that the Moore-Reid syndicate be sent for trial to the Kansas City judge. If he is in the business of setting examples, we presume he will give Moore-Reid a million years or so in the pentientiary.

P. S.—If you were to cut out this editorial and send it to Judge Latshaw, Kansas City, Mo., perhaps he might spare poor little Ellen McGuire the ignomy of going to prison by suspending her sentence. But still judges must uphold the dignity of the law, so it wouldn't do to spare Ellen.

Comforting Words

Many a Monessen Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from anoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Monessen readers:

Mrs. Ida Coleman, 311 Sixth street, Monessen, says: "I was troubled by a constant backache and in the morning especially when I stooped to put on my shoes, I found it hard to straighten. Sharp pains took my breath away. I felt tired all the time and had dizzy spells and hot flashes. My head ached. I doctored for a long time but didn't get much good and finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Kirk's Drug store. They gave me great relief and after I had taken the second box, the trouble disappeared. I haven't had any cause for complaint since. Others of the family are now using Doan's Kidney Pills and consider them the best kidney medicine on the market."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Coleman had. Foster-Mifburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Blue Blood Versus Oil

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

Billy Perkins had the usual American assurance, but it never got into the limelight till he went to Spain as a clerk in the American embassy. Billy had means and no taste for business. Indeed, since his living was ground out for him by coupons which fell like gold leaves from sundry bonds he had inherited, what he wanted was an apology for occupation. A friend having been appointed secretary of legation at Madrid, he secured Billy a position as brevet clerk, which gave him the right to say that he was attached to the embassy, but he was seldom if ever called upon to do any work.

As an attache of the legation he received invitations, and, since Americans are considered an unconventional people, he was accorded social liberties that other men were not granted. For instance, there were families which he was permitted to visit as young men visit in America—that is, he was not forced to converse with young women from the sidewalk, they standing on a balcony high above his head. He was permitted to see certain young ladies in their homes, but not alone. Some member of the family other than the lady on whom he called was always present.

One young lady in whose home he was accorded an entrance was a daughter of Don Sebastiano Herrera, a Spanish grandee whose family tree was planted in the time of Ferdinand and Isabella. Dona Inez, the daughter, was destined for some nobleman who would be considered worthy to enter the Herrera family. As for Billy Perkins, had he ten times the fortune he possessed he was not for a moment to be thought of as a husband for her.

Nevertheless the Herreras had traveled abroad a good deal and had thrown off some of the most ultra of their Spanish conventional forms. Their daughter met men at balls, and occasionally one was invited to her home—of course only by her father or mother. Billy Perkins met her at a function given by his chief, the ambassador, and fell desperately in love with her.

Dona Inez evinced a desire to learn English, and when Billy offered to teach her her mother was much pleased with the offer The good lady had a high admiration for the English nobility and had formed a design of taking her daughter to England, hoping that her rare beauty would catch an English nobleman. However this may be Billy was permitted to come to the house two evenings in the week to give Dona Inez lessons in the English language Of course her mother or some member of the family who could be relied upon was present to watch that no lovemaking passed between the two young persons. Moreover, whoever was on watch understood enough English to know if Billy were trying to work that language for the purpose of making love, though, since Dona Inez did not understand a word of English, this was hardly necessary.

Nothing is so delightful to two young persons of opposite sex as to outwit those who are placed on guard over them. Billy's method of teaching English was to have his pupil read something printed in that language or convert something printed from Spanish into the English tongue. This required the use of a Spanish and English dictionary.

One evening when the two were at work using the dictionary every few minutes, Billy, turning the leaves, stopped and put his finger on the word "your." Then he turned to the words "eyes" and put his finger on that word In this way he spelled out "your eyes are like beautiful twin lakes, and your lashes are like the rushes growing on the borders." Then Inez took the dictionary and by the same means said, "You Americans are great flatterers." This was followed by a sentence from Billy—"There is no such beauty in America as yours."

These few communications occupied half an hour, but what time was lost in looking up words was gained in the fervor of the sentences. In two or three evenings Billy had made as much love as some men with every facility would make in a year. And Dona Inez, if she was not an apt scholar at learning English, certainly understood with marvelous facility what was said to her by this method of communication.

Before Dona Inez had learned enough English to catch a British nobleman she had been caught by an American scamp who should have been put in the stocks for daring to make love to the daughter of a Spanish grandee. However, he came out frankly at last and one morning, marching boldly into the presence of Don Sebastiano, asked him for his daughter's hand. The old gentleman looked at the American brevet clerk aghast and asked him what he meant. Billy replied that he meant exactly what he said.

"Are you aware," asked Don Sebastiano, "that our family were nobles at a time when the land in which you were born was inhabited by savages?"

"I am," said Billy, "and are you aware that my ancestors drove your ancestors out of Texas? My ancestors bought an oil tract of your ancestors, and now I am in receipt of $20,000 a month from the property?"

Billy intended by this statement to strike the nail on the head, and he did, for Don Sebastiano, with all his blue blood, was as poor as a church mouse. Billy married Dona Inez, and the pair now live in winter in Spain, in summer in America.

'THE BIRTH OF A NATION' DRAWS GREAT CROWDS

Over 2,000 Offers for Playing Rights of Photoplay Refused

Never in the history of the theater has there been so widespread a demand for a play as there is for D. W. Griffith's magnificent spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," which is now playing a limited engagement at the Nixon theater in Pittsburgh. Over two thousand offers have been received for the playing rights of this photo drama, but all of them have been refused. As a result the only opportunity to see "The Birth of a Nation" within a radius of 100 miles of Pittsburgh will be during its present engagement at the Nixon theater. Over 2,000,000 people have seen this eighth wonder of the world. There have been over 500 performances at the Liberty theater, New York, 300 at the Tremont theater, Boston, and over 350 performances at the Illinois theater, Chicago, and it is still showing in those cities. Produced at a cost of $500,000 in a period of eight months; 18,000 people and 3,000 horses were used. There is a symphony orchestra of thirty. Few people realize that nearly 100 people are required to properly present to the public this gigantic spectacle. Musicians, expert operators and electricians, men to handle mechanical effects and men in other departments make up this roster which is as large as that of a large musical comedy company. It is the massiveness in both the subject and the manner of presentation of "The Birth of a Nation" that has made the public not only willing but eager to pay as high as $2 to witness the production. Not even Nero ever gazed upon so magnificent spectacle The prices for this engagement for evenings and Saturday matinees are $1 and $2 for the lower floor; $1 and $1 50 for the balcony; 25 and 50 cents for the second balcony. There are matinees every day except Sunday for which the prices are lower floor and balcony 50 cents and $1, second balcony, 25 and 50 cents. Mail orders containing remittances will receive prompt attention Those who wish to see "The Birth of a Nation" in Pittsburgh can avail themselves of the extremely low excursion rates which all the railroads are now offering on account of the Pittsburgh Exposition.

FOR COFFMAN

W. S Coffman, who is making an agressive campaign for Sheriff of Westmoreland county, was in Monessen the last of the week and saw many of the voters in this section of the county. He is making a strong bid for the office. He comes forth with strong endorsement of his business ability and makes the following statement to the voters.

New Alexandria, Pa, Sept 13, 1915

Dear Sir.—I have always been an active supporter of the Republican party, and am now asking for my first favor from that organization—the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Westmoreland county My father was a Quaker farmer and lived and died in Derry township, where I spent my whole life on a farm.

Having been active in business for many years, and having had wide business experience, I feel that I am qualified for the office which I now seek, and if elected you will have an officer who will give his undivided attention to the affairs of his office, endeavoring to please everyone, having the interests of the people always at heart, and transacting the business of this important office speedily, and with integrity and ability.

I have always endeavored to help others, no matter who they were nor what their position in life, and now I ask your help in securing this office

If you regard me as being fitted for the office to which I aspire, kindly let your friends know it, and remember to cast your vote for me at the primary election to be held Tuesday, September 21, 1915.

The New Alexandria National Bank
New Alexandria, Pa., Aug. 10, 1915.

To the Voters of Westmoreland Co—

We take pleasure in recommending Mr W. S Coffman, a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Westmoreland county Mr. Coffman possesses good business qualifications; the success he has attained as a farmer and stock dealer shows his ability.

Mr Coffman has been conducting a large business through our bank since its organization, and we have been in a position to know Mr. Coffman as a man possessing more than ordinary business ability. We have found him to be strictly honest and reliable, and believe the citizens of our county, in placing this man in the very important office of Sheriff, would be placing a trust in the hands of one who would not betray it, but would conduct a clean administration.

Very respectfully,
Doty Guthrie, President,
21 M-T R. A. Dorman, Cashier.
